Argentina's Deep Tech: A Fountain of Untapped Global Potential

Argentina possesses world-class technology and talent. However, deep tech startups are often limited by local market constraints, struggling to scale, access sufficient capital, and secure exits that deliver strong returns for investors. Without international expansion, their likelihood of success diminishes.

Silicon Valley Isn't a Market. It's the Arena.

Silicon Valley is the undisputed hub of global innovation. It concentrates the capital, talent, and corporate giants that define the future. For deep tech startups, a presence here is critical for success.

The World's 5th Largest Economy

California's GDP is nearly $14 trillion, 14% of the entire USA.

80% of Global Tech Investors

The vast majority of capital dedicated to technology is concentrated here.

The Epicenter of AI

Home to the defining companies of the AI revolution like OpenAI.

The Crossing is Perilous for Those Who Go It Alone

Argentina

Ecosystem Fluency
